1.Introduction

The website Tokyo is a travel-based site which focuses on the city of Tokyo in Japan where it shows popular destinations, history and culture, and some images of the popular destinations. This website includes a home page, language selector, popular destinations, history and culture, images, make a trip and a sign-in button.

2.About this website

The website Tokyo is meant to be a featured travel destination website for visiting places, but this website is a sample website focused on only Tokyo which is the capital city of Japan. This website is inspired by travel sites like trip.com. Firstly on the header, I have given the place name followed by the navigation link which takes users to different websites and a sign-in button which helps users to log in, register and use as a guest mode following that comes a greeting note. I have also given a search bar which is linked to the Google search engine.

On the footer, I have given a standard copyright statement © All rights reserved.2024 ALBV Company LTD. Which shows the contents in this website is owned by ALBV Company LTD.

3.Languages

On the page languages I have given users the option to select their respective languages to make the site more user-friendly and easy to use.

4.Popular destinations

Tokyo is one of the most exciting cities in the world. On this page, I have included some of the main attractions in the city with their pictures and details and an external link to Wikipedia for more information on the places.

5.History & Culture

The page History & culture focuses on the history and culture of Japan and Tokyo. It is also linked to Wikipedia for more details about this place.

6.Images

This page is designed to showcase some images of the main attractions in the country of Japan.

7. Make a trip

This webpage allows users to book their trips to different places by providing how many days are they planning to make the trip and from which date to which date the trip is planned. There is also an option to give the name of the traveller and their details and a button to book and confirm the travel.

8. Sign in

A sign-in button is provided for users to login if they are an existing user, a register button for new users and a guest mode for users just to visit the page.

9. Conclusion

The website Tokyo is a demo website which helps users view different places and book their travel dates. This website is inspired from many websites used in day-to-day to make it a simple and user-friendly website.
